Memorial Fund Now Totals $741.50

Business Section Not Quite
Complete; Personal Donations
Gratefully Received.

Dan Daly, chairman of Coleman War Memorial Fund, has released the contributions received to date towards the $5,000 objective. These donations have been received for the most part from the business section and various lodges, clubs and auxiliaries in town. A pleasing note to the campaign has been the several voluntary donations received from private individuals.

Donations from the business section and lodges are the result of the circular letters sent out a few weeks ago.

The committee now plans on soliciting other sources of revenue in order to obtain their objective.

Following are the contributions:
Business Houses and Lodges:
Ladies Auxiliary Canadian Legion, $200; Coleman Lions, $100; Father Lacombe Council No. 2674 Knights of Columbus, $35; Canadian Bank of Commerce, $25; Empire Hotel, $25; Coleman Pharmacy (G. Steeves), $25; Coleman Hotel, $25; Summit Lodge No. 30. G.R.A. AF & AM, $25; Coleman Hardware, $20; Minerva Chapter No. 41 O.E.S., $15; J. Wilkie, $15; Sentinel Motors, $15; Pattinson Hardware, $15; B.E.S.L., Coleman Branch No. 9 Incorporated, $10; Victoria Rebekah Lodge, $10; F. Aboussafy, $10; Coleman Cafe, $10; Modern Electric, $10; Pythian Sisters, $10; Charles Nicholas, $10; J. M. Chalmers, $10; Coleman Journal, $10; Coleman Meat Market, $5; Workers' Benevolent Society, $5; Coleman Cleaners (W. Flewlich), $5; Friendly Store, $5; J. Evans, $5; S. Donckio, $5; A. Sapota, $5; Coleman Motors, $5; A. Tappano, $5; M. Ferrara, $5; S. Ewanec, $5; T. Lloyd, $5; Canadian Ukrainian Association, $5; Huffman's Barber Shop, $2.50; Rite Spot (F. Weir), $2.50; Sammy's Barber Shop, $2.00; Motordrome, $2.00.

Personal Donations: Leslie Macdonald, $10; Wilmer Cox, $10; R. Steurbaut, $5; J. L. Larrimore, $5; John Macdonald, $5; D. Gentile, $1; M. Fourrier, fifty cents.

Total: $741.50

May we point out that there has been no canvassing of individual persons. The personal donations have been entirely voluntary.

PIPE BAND PLAYED AT NATAL AND MICHEL AT WEEK END

Co-operating with the Crow View Rodeo publicity committee Coleman Pipe Band travelled to Michel-Natal on Saturday evening and gave open air concerts to fairly large audiences, particularly in Natal. Posters were freely distributed publicizing the Rodeo.

It is the committee's intention to take the band to other Past towns to aid in publicity.

EXTENDED DATE FOR CLOTHING-DRIVE

M. W. Cooke, chairman of Coleman's Clothing Drive, announces that the local committee has extended the collection date to Saturday, July 13.

The depot is the club room of the United church and all merchants have authorized their truck drivers to receive clothing parcels and deliver them to the depot.

Up to the present time only 420 pounds have been shipped.

Induction of Rev. Dr. R. Macgowan At St. Paul's

Revs. McKelvey, Irwin and Goddard Assisted;
Social Evening Followed.

Rev. Dr. Macgowan, BA, BD.

On Friday evening a goodly number of the congregation gathered at St. Paul's United church for the induction services of Rev. Dr. Robert Macgowan.

Rev. J. McKelvey, of Blairmore, was chairman and introduced Rev. Mr. Goddard, of Pincher Creek, who gave the sermon. He chose as his text these words: "I planted, Apollus watered, but it was God who made the seed grow." His remarks were well chosen for the occasion, showing that we all must play our part to attain success in our church work.

The induction service itself was conducted by Rev. McKelvey and Rev. Irwin. At the close of the service a bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. Macgowan by little Gail Murdoch on behalf of those present.

A social hour was spent in the club room where lunch was served by the ladies. A reading by Mrs. Holmes and speeches by Rev. McKelvey and Rev. Irwin were enjoyed by all. The evening closed with the singing of "Blest be the Tie That Binds."

GIFT TO MEMORIAL PARK

The Memorial Park committee expresses its thanks to Mr. T. Heyes, of Michel-Natal for the gift of bushes.

Numerous Organizations to Enter Floats in Rodeo Parade; Cowboy Ball Big Feature Saturday Night

Lions Club Has Big Job to Cater to The Several Thousand Visitors Anticipated At The Rodeo.

Indications point more and more to August 3 being a red letter day in the history of Coleman. People from all points in southeastern British Columbia and southern Alberta have already signified their intention of coming to Coleman's biggest show and the various committees are working harder than ever to get everything in shape so that the Rodeo will be run off smoothly and efficiently.

Parade chairman Jim Kerr reports that over twenty floats have already been lined up for the monster parade that will also feature cowboys and cowgirls who will compete in the events. The various local organizations have all been approached and practically all have promised to be represented with a float. Jim, himself has uncovered the first motor driven vehicle ever to ride through the Crows' Nest Pass and has his mechanics working on it for the Rodeo parade.

The special prize for the best all-round cowboy will be a handsome pair of leather chaps.

The works committee can use a big gang of workers each night in order to finish off the magnificent job they have worked hard on the past two months. The Lions club is scheduled to work at the field to-night.

It is very probable that the town council will proclaim a civic holiday on August 3 as practically all businessmen are working in some committee and almost all of the trucks will be taking part in the parade.

While no entries have been officially received numerous enquiries have been received and it is customary for the entries to flock in during the last week. Mike Yagos, winner of the bronk riding final at Lethbridge, is a sure entry and is at present competing at Carmanagan. His brother Charlie is also a sure starter as well as numerous topnotch riders from prairie points in Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

This district was well represented among winners at the Macleod Stampede. Charlie Gilmar, of Blairmore, captured first money in the bareback riding event, Charlie Yagos, of Cowley, tied for second and third in the saddle event and Mike Yagos was fourth. Sandy Porter, of Lundbreck, was fourth in calf roping, time 23 flat, while Frank Chovstiers, of Coleman, third in boys' steer riding.

Pipe Band Attended Lethbridge And Calgary Stampedes

Band Giving Local Stampede
Real Publicity; Youngsters
Enjoying Experience.

A long steady grind of nightly practices is at long last paying off to the young members of Coleman's pipe band. It is more than a year now that Pipe Major Jim Moore and his able assistant Miss Myrtle Johnston started the band with a number of young boys and girls. They have practiced nightly practically without a break and now that they have progressed to the point where they can take part in open air concerts their services are in great demand.

Two weeks ago the Coleman Board of Trade sent them to the Lethbridge Stampede as ambassadors of goodwill and to help publicize the Crow View Rodeo. They did with very good results. At least two of the young handmen had never visited Lethbridge until they made this trip and the experience was very enjoyable.

Banners reading "Greetings From Coleman, premier coal mining centre of the famous Crows' Nest Pass" and "Visit the Coleman Crow View Rodeo, Saturday, Aug. 3" were prominently displayed.

Last Saturday the band was taken to Michel-Natal where again the banners were in prominent display. The BC citizens of those two towns were really appreciative of the band's efforts.

On Sunday evening the band hurriedly got into a huddle and made arrangements to take part in the Calgary Stampede. They were in Calgary bright and early and proudly marched with their pipes skirry, drums booming and, yes, the two banners proudly displayed advertising Coleman as a town and the Crow View Rodeo as an event worth seeing.

HONORED

On Thursday last members of St. Alban's Ladies Guild met at the home of Mrs. Steve Penney to honor Mrs. Daisy Houghton and Mrs. James Ferguson, who have since left to reside at Calgary, and Mrs. Jasper Jones, English, bride.

Mrs. Houghton was presented with a pair of gloves and Mrs. Ferguson, who was Guild secretary, with silver salt and pepper shakers. Regret was expressed at their departure from St. Alban's church.

Mrs. Jones was welcomed into St. Alban's church circle and presented with a handsome hassock and mirror.

Bishop Ragg to Hold Holy Communion Service

Bishop Ragg

The Bishop of Calgary will hold Holy Communion Service at 9 a.m. in St. Alban's church on Sunday, July 14.

Induction Service of the Rev. W. Grazer, newly appointed rector of St. Alban's church Coleman and St. Luke's church, Blairmore, will be held at St. Luke's church at 11 a.m. on July 14. A cordial invitation is extended to those wishing to attend.

Evening Song and Sermon will be held in St. Alban's church, Coleman at 7 p.m. July 14, and will be conducted by the Rev. W. Grazer.

Widen Bluff on Main Street East

Studio Proprietor Demands Too Much For Property. Sidewalk Being Improved.

The department of public works and the town council have combined on a 50-50 basis to widen the bluff as one enters the main street from the east.

On Monday morning a power shovel was put on the job and is tearing deep into the hillside. It is planned to widen the curve to its full length.

This is one of the several long range improvement plans the council has in mind. In connection with this particular project it had been planned to buy the Photo Studio building and thus make a clear sweep around the curve. Unfortunately the studio proprietor and the council cannot see eye to eye on the purchase price of the property and so the building will remain at its present location.

The new sidewalk that is being prepared alongside the No. 3 highway as it leaves Coleman on the east will be graded and made ready for hardsurfacing sometime in 1947.

Richard Slugg, Pass Pioneer, Died Wednesday

Survived Frank Slide in 1903;
Help Lay Steel Through Pass in Early Days.

A link with the history of the Crows' Nest Pass was broken at seven o'clock Wednesday morning in the local hospital when one of the really old pioneers of the Pass died in the person of Richard "Dick" Slugg, 76. Deceased had been ailing for the past three years and had repeatedly been a hospital patient. He was taken to hospital on Monday morning of this week.

Born at Towbridge, Hampshire, England, he served his apprenticeship as a blacksmith at Portsmouth dock yards before coming to Canada at the age of 21 years. He was accompanied to Canada by a cousin, both young men settling at Ottawa where Dick gained employment with a gas company.

In 1901 he came west, first settling at Nelson and for possibly two years working at Kimberley, Trail and Rossland. Shortly prior to the Frank slide in 1903 he came to Frank and the night of the disaster was fast asleep in a boarding house when the top of the mountain fell into the valley. His pet dog woke him up that morning and upon looking out the door stood in amazement at the sight that met his gaze.

He has never left the Pass and has worked at practically all mines as a blacksmith. He was actually a walking encyclopedia of Crows' Nest Pass history. He knew intimately all the prospectors that found the various coal seams in the district and knew the late Joe Little, long before the latter amassed a fortune from the Pass coal fields.

For many years he had made his home in Coleman, working as an employee of International. Sickness forced him into retirement several years ago and during the past three years his physical condition has increasingly worsened. Time and again he was admitted to hospital and aided by a fighting spirit that had carried him through the rough days of the west he had pulled through and gone home.

He was one of the blacksmiths that was employed by the CPR when that company laid steel through the Crows' Nest Pass. Many colorful stories he has told of those historic days and could point out unmarked graves where some of the laborers had died and been buried by the side of the road.

He was a skilled blacksmith and many examples of his handiwork are to be seen in the various horse shoes, etc., which he has framed in his East Coleman home.

He was predeceased by his eldest son Fred, who died two years ago last October.

Surviving are his widow, son James and daughter Laura.

At the time of going to press the funeral arrangements were incomplete.

ALL INDIAN CONGRESS HAS APPROVED THE BRITISH PLAN FOR INDIAN INDEPENDENCE

BOMBAY.—Overriding Socialist opposition and heeding the pleas of Mohandas K. Gandhi and other leaders, the delegate assembly of the all-Indian Congress approved by a 204 to 51 vote the British cabinet mission's long-term plan for Indian independence.

The plan already had been endorsed by the Congress party's working committee, which submitted it to the assembly at an emergency two-day meeting.

On Saturday Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru formally assumed leadership of the Congress party and urged his followers to maintain intact "the weapon with which the nation has fought the Britishers all these years—the Congress machinery."

The British cabinet mission's proposals include the creation of a federated union of India and the election of a constituent assembly to draw a charter for Indian independence.

As a result of the action the Indians are scheduled to proceed now with formation of the constituent assembly. The Moslem league, chief rival of the Congress party, has already approved the British plan. The provincial legislatures will elect the assembly delegates.

HYDERABAD, Deccan, India.—Leading citizens of Hyderabad, India's second largest and most populous native state have proposed that Hyderabad become a British dominion in the event that the plan for a federated, independent India falls through.

The Hyderabad proposal was advanced in a concise memorandum submitted recently by leading industrial, officials and civic leaders to the British parliamentary delegation which came to India last spring.

"Whatever happens politically in British India in the future, Hyderabad with her cooled territories duly restored to her and having an outlet to the sea can constitute a dominion of the British Empire by herself in alliance with the crown," the memorandum said. "The would, of course, contract treaties with contiguous dominions on questions that are likely to arise between the neighboring governments."

APPEAL FOR FUNDS

Archbishop Of Canterbury Asks For Help To Restore Buildings

LONDON.—The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, opened an appeal at the Mansion House for £300,000 ($1,325,000) to "restore the fabric" of the Cathedral Church of Christ, Canterbury, to rebuild surrounding structures destroyed by the Luftwaffe and to "maintain the current life" at the cathedral for at least 10 years in the face of diminished revenues.

Committees to aid the campaign will be established in United States and in Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa.

WILL MAINTAIN CLOSE WATCH ON MOVEMENT OF GOODS AS RESULT OF U.S. CONTROL LIFTING

OTTAWA.—A close watch is being kept by the government for a pronounced movement of goods out of the Canadian domestic market into the United States resulting from the lifting of the lid on price controls in that country, and if any such movement develops it is expected Ottawa will immediately put an export ban order into effect.

Canada's determination not to allow the situation in the United States to interfere and upset the Dominion's program for a planned, orderly and progressive decontrol, was voiced in parliament by Prime Minister Mackenzie King when he said there was no intention of abandoning controls in Canada.

"Developments affecting prices in other countries, particularly the United States are of course, notwithstanding their effect upon Canada. Our policies have in the past and will, in the future, necessarily continue to have such developments in mind," said Mr. King.

It is noted that during the war export bans were resorted to and it is predicted by informed sources that similar measures would be called upon to keep Canada's economy on a steady keel in spite of the storm brewing across the border.

Meantime Canada's machinery for control of prices, which includes the commodity price stabilization corporation, subsidizing imports from the United States will be kept flexible. "We shall continue to follow policies which we believe to be in the general interest, making from time to time, such modifications as seem to

ON NEW SITE

Saskatchewan University's College Of Commerce Moved To Alhilda

SASKATOON.—Acting president W. P. Thompson of the University of Saskatchewan's college of commerce announced the entire college, including faculty offices and library, will be moved to a former airfield.

The move is part of a plan by which some 20 buildings will be utilized at the airport this year to accommodate 500 to 600 male students, including men from arts and the school of agriculture. Staff for a section of type "B" arts will be moved out also.

With more than 5,000 students expected to enroll at the university in the fall, limited accommodation made it imperative steps be taken to ease the situation. It was decided to move a whole college and staff to the new establishment. The college of commerce was the logical choice because it requires technical equipment and laboratories.

PASSAGE TO CANADA

Big Movement Is Underway From The United Kingdom

LONDON.—With the repatriation of Canadian servicemen nearly finished and the movement of their dependents well underway, authorities are trying to find out just how many others want passage to Canada from the United Kingdom.

Applications are on hand from 5,217 persons, exclusive of dependents of Canadian servicemen, seeking passage to Canada.

Approximately 24,000 wives and children of Canadian servicemen still are in England or on the continent awaiting passage to the Dominion. Seven major sailings are scheduled for July, with the Cunard liner George added to the ships on the Canadian run and scheduled to dock at Halifax July 16 on her first trip.

ARCTIC VOYAGE

Toronto Girl To Take Long Trip To Far North

TORONTO.—A bride from Toronto will be aboard the Nasaspie when that Hudson's Bay Company supply vessel sails from Montreal on its annual 10,000-mile jaunt to the Arctic with supplies for lonely outposts along the shores of Hudson Bay.

The bride will be Faith Knightley, going to marry Samuel Dods of Bracebridge, Ont., a radioisone observer of the meteorological service at Port Harrison which the ship is scheduled to reach in August.

STUDY JAPANESE INDUSTRY

CANBERRA.—A group of businessmen will leave Australia for Japan soon to study Japan's industrial equipment and methods, especially in the textile industry. The federal cabinet is expected to appoint them to honorary rank in the services so that they can make the visit.

will be required in the light of internal and external conditions as they develop," said Mr. King.

No one in Ottawa is disguising their disappointment over the blow-up in the United States. It is pointed out that the developments in the American economy can effect the world trade picture.

Canada will continue to pay and if necessary increase, subsidies considered essential to the Dominion's economy. However, informed quarters consider it unlikely subsidies will be required on consumer goods such as radio, refrigerators, automobiles and vacuum cleaners. Increasing Canadian production of such items is expected to offset any pressures for steep-up prices due to shortages in those lines.

Coal and cotton, however, are different matters. Already the government has increased the subsidies on those commodities to keep consumer costs down in Canada. It is anticipated a further offsetting of U.S. price increases through import subsidies will be necessary for such items as oranges, canned fruit juices, gasoline and other products brought across the line.

PREMIER RETURNED

BATAVIA.—The government of the unrecognized Indonesian republic announced that its kidnapped premier, Sutan Sjahrir, had arrived in Jogjakarta "in good health". Sjahrir, abducted from his official residence in Soerabaya, was returning to Jogjakarta by an army detachment, a broadcast said.

Dr. D. A. FITZGERALD

U.S. government's leading expert on international food problems, Dr. D. A. Fitzgerald, 43-year-old western Canadian from Grenfell, Sask., has been appointed secretary-general to direct a 20-power campaign against famine. He will be in charge of efforts to round up more food in lands of plenty and divide it fairly among the world's hungry peoples.

MAY BE EXTENDED

Season In Manitoba For Whitefish Has Been Very Poor

WINNIPEG.—If there are any whitefish in Lake Winnipeg, they've refused to have even a nodding acquaintance so far this season with the crews of the 150 fishing vessels out seeking them.

The Manitoba limit, set by the provincial resources department fisheries branch, is 3,000,000 pounds the year with the season open from June 1-Aug. 1. But if fishermen don't fare any better in July than they did in June, the season may be extended. So far, although figures are not available, it has been one of the poorest on record.

PREDICTS A WAR

NEW YORK.—Eugene O'Connor, chairman of the American Red Cross, said he "frankly" expects another war. Mr. O'Connor, who left La Guardia field by plane for London to direct a meeting of the league of Red Cross societies at Oxford, said "everyone must plan on that basis."

NEW APPOINTMENT

Graduate of Saskatchewan University Is Economic Director At Ottawa

OTTAWA.—Appointment of John J. Deutsch as director of the finance department's economic relations division and Kenneth W. Taylor as economic adviser, was announced by the department of finance.

Mr. Deutsch is a graduate of Saskatchewan and Queen's universities and for some years was on the research staff of the Bank of Canada and of the royal commission on dominion-provincial relations. Later he joined the staff of the department of external affairs as special wartime assistant to the under-secretary and for a time was on loan to the department of labour as assistant director, national selective service.

Mr. Taylor is a veteran of the First Great War and a graduate of Toronto, McMaster and Chicago universities. He was formerly professor of political economy and associate dean of arts at McMaster university. He has had long experience in the field of economic investigation and on numerous occasions has acted as economic adviser to various royal commissions and government agencies.

ROUTINE TRAINING

United States Naval Contingent Is Making Arctic Cruise

OTTAWA.—A small United States naval and coast guard contingent will engage in a northern training cruise, partly in Canadian Arctic waters, this summer, the external affairs department announced.

The announcement, made simultaneously in Ottawa and Washington, said officers of the Canadian navy, army and air force would participate.

"The purpose of the cruise is to simplify existing knowledge of navigational and weather conditions and provide routine training for personnel," the statement said.

A REAL DANGER

LONDON.—The report of the Anglo-American committee of enquiry on Palestine said the Jewish agency was such a strong factor in Palestine that the Palestine government considered it "a distinctly dangerous influence."

COMMONWEALTH RELATIONS ARE TO BE REVIEWED IN BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS

(By James McCook)

LONDON.—An early debate in the House of Commons on commonwealth relations has been proposed, it was learned. Defence communications and results of recent conferences in London are to be reviewed in the debate.

The government is expected to make it clear it is well satisfied with recent commonwealth consultations attended by representatives of the four dominions—Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. No hard and fast decisions were reached and Whitehall now accepts the view that the dominions' own parliaments must pass on such decisions.

The success of consultations probably means there will be no more formal imperial conferences. One Whitehall source said "there will be no weeping about that here."

Government spokesmen indicate that while the dominions have made no new commitments on joint defence there is a feeling of confidence about over-all unity in the future. Before the consultations the government had been asked to see the dominions carried a greater share of the joint defence burden but the dominions in turn pointed to their limitations and localized problems.

Proposals for closer association between Canadian and United States fighting forces were observed calmly by the United Kingdom. Closer integration of weapons of the Allies is looked upon as normal and desirable and the United Kingdom and the United States to a degree have followed the course planned by Canada and the United States in obtaining uniformity of weapons and equipment.

Commonwealth consultations as opposed to imperial conferences are expected by London observers to prove quickly their effectiveness.

INTRODUCTION OF NEW FARM METHODS MAY REVOLUTIONIZE FRENCH FOOD PRODUCTION

PARIS.—French peasants, listening to lectures by agricultural experts, hear with open-mouthed incredulity that dairy farmers in Canada and the United States have machines to do the milking.

They are skeptical—but they listen with avid interest. The fact—the sudden, eager willingness of the peasants to study and learn new methods—is hailed by officials of the ministry of agriculture as the harbinger of an "industrial revolution" in French food production.

"It will take years to modernize French agriculture," a ministry official told the British United Press, "but the two basic requirements, signing of the Franco-American economic accord and willingness of the peasant to accept modernization, now make accomplishment of the long-standing dream of our economic experts virtually a foregone conclusion."

Invariables of French psychology have always been the stubborn devotion of the peasant to his land and his resistance to change. He has guarded his land with jealous care when all else of value vanished, dividing it among his sons who carried on the tradition religiously, using the same methods and tools handed down for generations.

Now, however, the systematic looting of 600,000 French horses, an essential part of the old system, by the Germans, as well as ever increasing shortages of farm labor due to the wide tendency of farmer's sons to become impatient with rural life and seek the quicker compensations of factory jobs or white collar professions, have made new expedients imperative.

The peasants are seeking modernization faster than the slowly renaissance French industry and North American imports can give it to them," the ministry official said. One of the principal factors holding up the mechanization program, he pointed out, is the shortage of competent engineers and surveyors, to bring about the necessary reorganization of land.

Under the age-old French agricultural system the land is divided up into small, oddly shaped plots, intensively cultivated. It is not unusual for a man to own a lot completely surrounded by land owned and worked by someone else.

This situation does not lend itself to modern, large scale cultivation, and the farmers themselves are demanding to have their land surveyed and redivided. Approximately 1,200 communes have applied to the ministry of agriculture for surveys.

EDEN REVISITS TORONTO AFTER TWENTY YEARS—When Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden visited Toronto, he was greeted by Hon. Albert Matthews, lieutenant-governor of Ontario. In 20 years which have elapsed since his last visit, the distinguished diplomat has become grayer, but is just as handsome.

HOOPER RETURNS FOR WORLD FOOD SURVEY—Food surveyor Herbert Hoover is seen arriving back in Washington after a journey around the world in an effort to locate food for war-stricken nations. The former Republican president is preparing a lengthy report for President Truman on the situation.

CAR PRIORITIES

No New Applications Will Be Accepted During July

OTTAWA.—Reconstruction Minister Howe announced that no new automobile priority certificates will be accepted or processed during July. Priorities will be issued immediately, however, on applications which were approved between May 7 and June 30 while issue of priorities was suspended.

Whether any priorities will be handled in August would be decided "in the light of further production reports covering June and the first half of July," Mr. Howe said in a statement.

Issuance of priority certificates was suspended on May 7, when the number in the hands of the public far exceeded deliveries of new motor vehicles to dealers.

ARRIVE IN RUSSIA

LONDON.—A nine-man delegation of the British society for Anglo-Soviet friendship, headed by Rev. Stanley Evans, chairman of the British Soviet friendship house, has arrived at Leningrad, the Moscow radio reported.

CONTROLS TO STAY

OTTAWA.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, referring to United States abandonment of price, ration and rent controls, announced in the commons there was no intention to do away with those controls in Canada.

MRS. DAISY HOUGHTON AND FAMILY LEAVE COLEMAN

Mrs. Daisy Houghton and her daughter, Mrs. James Ferguson, Mr. Ferguson and two children have left Coleman to reside at Calgary.

Mr. Ferguson left on Sunday to secure employment while Mrs. Houghton, Mrs. Ferguson and family left on Wednesday. They have purchased a home in Bowness.

It is approximately seven years since Mrs. Houghton last came to Coleman. It is about twenty years ago when she first came to Coleman with her husband, the late Harold Houghton, and two children, Edna, now Mrs. Ferguson, and Harry, now of the Canadian navy, from Passburg. Most of the past twenty years have been spent between Coleman and Calgary and it is to the latter city they once again return to reside.

It is a year ago since the Fergusons came from Calgary to reside here, having been called to Coleman due to the serious illness and subsequent death of Mr. Houghton. They then decided to remain here and Mr. Ferguson gained employment with the Excel Builders Supply Co.

The many friends of Mrs. Houghton and Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson join in wishing them happiness in their new home.

HONORED

On Monday evening members of the Rebekah lodge gathered at the lodge hall to honor Mrs. Daisy Houghton and Mrs. James Ferguson who have since left Coleman to take up residence at Calgary.

Whist was played, the winners being Mrs. M. W. Ferguson and Mrs. Jack Nash. Following a dainty lunch the honored guests were given presentations. Sister Shields presented Sister Houghton with a beautiful picture of Crows' Nest Mountain and a set of book ends. Sister Kerr presented Sister Ferguson with a beautiful tray. Regret was expressed at the loss of the two valuable members. Sisters Houghton and Ferguson thanked the members for the beautiful gifts and for the pleasure received at the various lodge meetings.

On the occasion of her birthday Sister M. W. Ferguson was presented by Sister Nash with a beautiful bouquet of Gladioli.

MRS. ELLIS DERBYSHIRE ARRIVES FROM ENGLAND

Mrs. Ellis Derbyshire, English war bride from Manchester, arrived in Coleman on Wednesday evening of last week to join her husband.

She left Britain on Sunday, June 23 on the Aquitania and arrived at Halifax. On her trip across the Dominion she, along with other British brides, was given a warm welcome by various Red Cross units who gave her fruit, confectionary, food and cigarettes.

She was met at Medicine Hat by her husband who travelled the 200 miles to welcome her to her new home.

On Friday evening she was the honored guest at a miscellaneous shower sponsored by the war brides committee at which she received numerous useful gifts.

While only a week in Coleman she is fully convinced that she will like her new home in the Rockies. Next month her husband plans on motoring out to the west coast with her to show her the beauties of Vancouver.

CARD OF THANKS
 I wish to express my sincere thanks to the Coleman war brides' committee for the miscellaneous shower sponsored in my honor. Thanks is also extended to those ladies who were so kind in presenting me with so many lovely and useful gifts, and to Mrs. W. H. Garner for the lovely corsage.
 Mrs. Ellis Derbyshire.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Gerald Gentile arrived in Coleman from his home in Fort Langely on Saturday just in time to be guest of honor at a party sponsored by his grandmother, Mrs. D. Gentile, to celebrate his ninth birthday.

A very dainty lunch was served with the traditional cake and other delicacies and to which, Gerald and his nine young guests did real justice. A number of gifts were presented to the honored guest.

Following lunch Gerald was host to his friends at a theatre party.

He is visiting here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Gentile.

NYLON HOSIERY

Reconversion From War To Peacetime Production Has Not Been Completed

The tremendous demand for nylon hosiery cannot be met at present because reconversion from war to peacetime production has not been effected 100 per cent.

"It is not a simple matter for a hosiery mill to switch from the heavy rayon used during the past few years to the fine, gossamer nylon yarns women want," writes nylon authority, Katherine Mackenzie, in the current issue of C-I-L Oval.

"Complex adjustments have to be made to great banks of knitting machines so they can handle material half the size of rayon. Further, the strength and elastic properties of nylon yarn differ from rayon and consequently the construction of the stockings must be changed. All this takes time and involves much trial and error before perfection is obtained," explains Mackenzie.

Describing the actual construction of nylon hosiery, she states each stocking has a gauge size stamped at the top. The gauge refers to the number of needles in each 1½ inches of the knitter's needle bar. The greater the number the finer and closer the texture of the hose. Set by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, the price of nylons is determined by their gauge.

Nylon hosiery, she claims, will wear twice as long if properly cared for. When purchasing such stockings, women should usually order them one half size larger than the ordinary type. This is because nylons tend to retain their original shape and size when worn, while rayon and cotton stockings stretch.

"When handling nylons care must be taken they are not snagged by rings or rough fingernails. They should be washed in mild soap suds, rolled in a towel to squeeze out the excess water, then hung up to dry by the toes or the hem of the uppers.

Miss Mackenzie spiked certain rumors about nylons often heard in feminine circles. She asserts that cigarette ashes, contrary to popular belief, have no effect on this type of hosiery. A live spark from a cigarette, however, will melt the yarn and result in a run.

The myth that automobile exhaust fumes are harmful to nylons is also without foundation," she maintains. "You can wrap a nylon stocking around the end of the exhaust pipe and run the car for miles without the stockings suffering any damage other than smudging from the fumes."

Dresses, scarves and blouses of nylon fabric are being manufactured in limited quantities today, according to Miss Mackenzie. Like the stockings, nylon garments are easy to launder, she says. They should be washed in soap suds, thoroughly rinsed and rolled in a towel for partial drying before being hung up to dry. Although they can be ironed when damp, it was found that completely dry fabrics were easier to handle.

"Be careful that your iron isn't too hot or it will melt the fabric," cautions Miss Mackenzie. "If the iron has a heat control, the 'wool' setting should be just right."

INTEREST

NATIONAL UNITY

"There is no field in which the question of national unity is more important than in the field of health," writes Dr. Gordon Bates in an editorial entitled "National Unity" in the current summer issue of Health, official magazine of the Health League of Canada. Dr. Bates is general director of the Health League and editor of the magazine.

"Canada is growing up. But Canada like all countries will only acquire full membership, assured status and finally leadership in the federation of the world by virtue of the physical and mental health of all Canadians.

"It is not sufficient that one or several sections of Canada should have low rates of sickness and poverty, that the citizens of only some areas should be well fed, well housed, healthy and long lived. It must be a matter of concern to all Canadians that every part of Canada have lagged behind others. The great objective should be steadily advancing standards in all parts of the Dominion.

This objective requires a continuous health education program for the whole of Canada conceived along the broadest lines involving the participation of as many units of all varieties as possible. Only by such means will official departments concerned with the health and welfare of the people be strengthened, only by such nation-wide effort will laws for the preservation of health and the abolition of poverty be passed in all Provinces except only in some.

"A rotten apple will affect a barrel of good apples. Communicable disease will spread from a neglected area to a healthy area or the criminal in the slums may rob and kill his wealthy neighbor. The objectives of humanitarianism are not parochial but national and world-wide. And as the objectives of universal humanitarianism are realized there will be no slums or disease anywhere to infect the rest of the world.

"If we in Canada realize the significance of these ideals we will work not only for the health of parts of our country but always for the health and welfare of all Canadians."

Arctic Survey

Specific And Detailed Scientific Knowledge Is Required

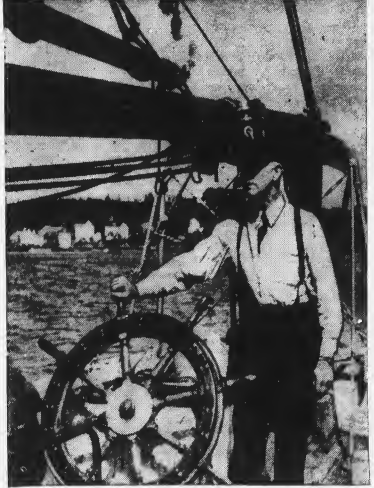

TORONTO—Speaking at the annual dinner of the Chemical Institute of Canada, Dr. A. L. Washburn, director of the Arctic Institute of North America, said specific and detailed scientific knowledge of the Arctic was badly needed for proper evaluation of its world role.

He elaborated with the statement "much has been learned by expeditions during the past 100 years, but many of the expeditions merely touched coastlines, leaving interiors still unknown." The Arctic, he particularly stressed, is the Canadian Arctic islands.

He explained less than one half of Alaska has been topographically mapped, and less than one per cent. has been surveyed from the air. Parts of the Canadian Arctic have never been seen, much less mapped.

"Soviet Russia not only has weather stations but also general scientific laboratories where many types of research are carried on in addition to meteorology. There are almost no stations of this sort in Arctic North America.

REG'LAR FELLERS—Rather Flimsy

Plan Was Memorized

Secrecy Fald In Attack On Italians At Sadi Barrani

Secrecy so closely observed that an entire plan of attack was committed to memory by a handful of commanders and never entrusted to paper, was the way to the 1940 battle of Sidi Barrani which smashed Mussolini's dream of a Northern African empire, the war office disclosed recently.

Two months of planning went into the attack which, when it came at dawn, Dec. 9, 1940, cleared the Italians out of Egypt in one week, in an unbroken 500-mile advance, captured Tobruk, destroyed an entire Italian army of four corps and filled the "cages" with 130,000 prisoners.

"Effect of surprise" is how Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, their commander-in-chief in the Middle East (now Field Marshal Viscount Wavell, viceroy of India), laconically summarized the reasons for the success of the operation in a dispatch to the war secretary submitted five years ago and now made public.

"In order to maintain secrecy, as few persons as possible were made aware of the plan," the commander-in-chief wrote.

"Practically nothing whatever was put on paper, and not more than half a dozen senior commanders and staff officers knew of the plan until shortly before its execution.

Lord Wavell gave two other contributing factors: "Good co-operation between the three services," army, navy, air force, and "fine leadership and fighting qualities displayed by all personnel."

Planning was so secret that a preliminary exercise for the attack was explained to the troops involved as purely a training exercise, and the only warning they had of the assault to come was an indication that "a further exercise" would be held "at a date early in December."

Executed As Spy

Man Who Lost His Life In Japan For Assisting British Forces

VANCOUVER—The British passenger freighter the Empire Gunfleet, docked here recently from Hong Kong, bringing with it the personal effects of T. C. (Mysterious) Monahan, executed by the Japanese for assisting British intelligence officers during the war.

Monahan was a Canadian Pacific Railway agent in Hong Kong when the city fell. It was there he received the nickname "Mysterious". He escaped internment by concealing Japanese armies by establishing his citizenship as a member of the Irish Free State. He received comparative freedom of the city, and organized a food smuggling system into internment camps. At the risk of his life, he assisted British intelligence forces by informing them of Japanese movements.

Monahan escaped detection only for a short time. Then a leak occurred in his system and he was captured and executed as a spy.

His personal effects were forwarded to his widow in New York.

Both China and India are credited with the origin of puppet shows.

Construction Boss

The Dog That Took A Deep Interest In The Building Of A Bridge

In building a bridge across the creek that bounds the farm, the Province undoubtedly intends to facilitate traffic; that and nothing else. But the retriever which lives down the road has a wholly different conception of the project. It seems to him specifically designed to furnish him the company of a number of agreeable men who do interesting things.

When the construction crew arrives in the morning there is the retriever and he inspects all phases of the project. But it is when something falls into the water that he really goes into action. It may be a stick but he salvages it. He has been seen to handle a large plank that would tax the strength of a good sized boy. These things he pushes to the bank and then tugs them out of the water several feet only dry land.

In the early stages of the job the dog was sometimes interrupted by his master who would come for him. Now the owner is occupied with getting his hay crop into the barn, and his fussy interference has ceased. So the dog can see each day's work through to a finish.

Although all this activity is right under the nose of our setter, he and the retriever seem to have some understanding, that it is the retriever's domain. The setter does not go there unless accompanied by some human. On the other hand the retriever can use the near bank of the creek only in his salvage operations. If he strays beyond that into the yard, the setter goes to the scene with an air of great dignity and the retriever goes back within his own boundaries. There has been no fight about the matter, but that there is an understanding is quite evident.

It will be a prosaic world for the retriever when this bridge job is finished; that is it will until the duck season opens.

Wiltshire Mansion

A Rambling Old House With Many Windows

In the Wiltshire mansion of Longleat, a rambling house with as many windows as there are days in the year, there died Thomas Henry Thynne, fifth Marquis of Bath.

For 50 of his 83 years, the marquis was lord of Longleat, which his ancestor Sir Thomas Thynne (pronounced Thin) inherited in the 17th century.

To him came the modest honors of the county chairmanship of the county council, the Lord Lieutenant of Somerset.

He served for two spells in Parliament as Conservative M.P.

But, with the Liberal Government of Campbell-Bannerman in power, the marquis retired to Longleat.

There, on his 70th birthday, he lit a huge bonfire, which the folk of four counties could see.

There was a fair at the village inn, country dancing on Longleat's lawns. It was as if the years had not been, and Queen Bess was on the throne, as she was when Longleat was built—London Express.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

CRAZY FOR MONEY

By ERNEST MILES

Copyright Wheeler Newspaper Syndicate

BACK for the "Crazy For Money" program, Bud Watson was on the platform waiting to go on the air.

If you listened to the show two weeks ago you will remember Mart Ringerly, the Master of Ceremonies, introduced Bud. He told how Bud had just been discharged from the Army and had volunteered for any stunt asked of him. But was to go out to Roscoe's Mammoth Carnival in the Fair Grounds, and to act as a speller for Captain Billy's Bathing Beauties.

Captain Billy Swanson was there to take him out and as a prize Mart gave Bud half of a $100 bill, telling him to return in two weeks and relate his experiences, promising him the other half of the bill if he made good.

And now the program was on the air and Mart Ringerly was saying, "Hello! Hello! Hello! Tonight we are going to hear what happened to Bud Watson, who two weeks ago went out to the Carnival to be a speller on Captain Billy's Bathing Beauties show. Captain Billy is here, too, and I see he has brought a very pretty blonde with him. We'll start with you, Captain. But first, who is this lovely girl?"

"Oh, this is my daughter, Dora, who got herself involved in the stunt so I brought her along, too."

"This sounds mysterious, but tell us first what you did with Bud."

"Well, I told Bud to stand by the ticket booth and watch me do a couple of hullyhoos. That's how my daughter, got mixed up in it, for Dora was selling tickets and Bud paid a whole lot more attention to her than to me."

"There was a big crowd of folks who had heard your broadcast, and had come out to hear the fun. They began calling for Bud so I brought him onto the platform. That big, red-headed six-footer just stood there tongue-tied. However, I managed to get him going and he did pretty well so I sent him back to announce the events. The crowd swarmed in after him. We did a whole of a business and Bud got better all the time."

"Then you would say Bud was a success and deserved the money?"

"He did all right but he was still paying more attention to my daughter than to the show. It ended up by my having him thrown into the tank of water."

"The audience was screaming as Mart asked, 'You mean to say the evening ended with Bud in the water?'"

"Oh, not that night, it was three nights later that happened."

"What in the world has three nights later got to do with it? We'd better get Bud to straighten this out. Bud, tell us what happened."

Bud stammered a bit, "Well, as the Captain told you, we went out to the show and I was to listen and learn from him what to do. But that girl in the ticket booth set my head in a swirl and I just couldn't concentrate on what the Captain was saying. She was very cool with me and told me to run along and attend to my own business. Then Captain Billy called me onto the platform and there I was in front of that crowd, standing with six girls wrapped in dressing gowns. Gee, I couldn't say a word."

"The crowd laughed at me and Captain Billy said, 'get going, kid,' so I did the best I could."

"But," asked Mart, "how in the world did you get thrown into the tank three nights later?"

"Oh, I was crazy about the girl in the booth and went back each night determined to make her like me. I hung around but she wouldn't talk. Captain Billy got madder and madder and tried to chase me away. On the third night he had a couple of fellows throw me into the tank."

"Keep going, Bud," said Mart, while the crowd roared, "you really got yourself all wet, didn't you?"

"I was certainly wet and just as I got out of the tank Dora came back with the cash and tickets. When she saw what had happened she let out a yell and chased those fellows out. Then she turned and gave Captain Billy a tongue-lashing. I didn't know until then she was his daughter."

"She seems to have begun to take an interest in you at last. What did she do then?"

"Dora sent me back into one of the dressing rooms to dry out," said Mart, "and she said, 'Now you're dry again,' said Mart, as the audience applauded, 'or is that the end of the story?'"

"Oh, there's lots more of it because the Captain was still hostile, but I got along fine with Dora and I kept going every night. She told me she had liked me right from the start but thought maybe I was just another flirter."

"Ha, ha, romance seems to have blossomed," said Mart, "and I hear what Captain Billy has to say."

"I didn't like it at first because Dora is only 18 and I've been both father and mother to her. Her mother died when she was three, but I was a persistent guy. I could see Dora had fallen hard for him. Bud was just out of the army and had no idea as to what he was going to do. I couldn't figure any future for that basis, but Dora straightened it out."

"She got him a job so he'd be able to marry her."

"She certainly did. Bud is now my chief assistant and does a swell job. When the season is finished they plan to get married and I'll still have my daughter plus a darn fine son."

By now the audience was standing, cheering. Mart finally broke in: "It just goes to show you never know what will happen on this show. Bud, here is the other half of that $100 bill. Good luck to both of you."

"Thank you very much, it has been a wonderful experience," said Bud and passed the bill over to Dora.

"There," said Mart, "it's the woman who wins. Tell us, Dora, what are you going to do with that money?"

"Well, Mr. Ringerly, Bud promised it to me towards the finest troussseau a girl ever had, but Bud is the best prize of all, a real Valentine, and we're going to be very happy."

"I'm sure you will be," said Mart, "and Bud may have been crazy for money but he certainly is wise in his choice of a wife."

Farm Research

Agricultural Groups See The Need For Further Information

An increased demand for the services of agricultural economists was forecast by Dr. J. F. Booth, head of the Dominion Agricultural Department's Economics Division in an address to the 17th annual meeting of the Canadian Agricultural Economics Society at Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue.

The Economics Division must provide information useful to farmers, those marketing agricultural products and governments dealing with the farmers' industry. Dr. Booth said.

Since establishment of the division in 1929, much of the initial work had been to build up factual information on problems faced by the individual farmer. During the war, much of the research had been carried out in developing and administering numerous farm policies.

Practically every type of activity carried on before the war was represented in requests made to the division by agricultural groups throughout the country for additional research work.

THANKS CANADA

Viscountess Alexander Grateful For Help Given During The War

Large supplies of oranges and milk, large newspapers and envelopes which were used only once are details of Canadian life which impress anyone arriving from Britain, Viscountess Alexander said.

Speaking to the Ottawa Women's Canadian Club, the Governor-General's wife told her hearers of her children's excitement at the thought of coming to Canada and their delight with the trip.

"They have made themselves completely at home, so much so they have needed, some firm handling," she said.

"It was my husband's and my idea that we should keep our children out of school until next September, until they became accustomed to their new home. But I wasn't here 10 days when I knew ours was not a wise decision, and in a few more days I sent them off to school."

Lady Alexander thanked the women of Canada for their help to Britain during the war. The Red Cross had helped to finance 100 war nurseries, the Junior Red Cross had sent comforts, the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire had sent clothing, the Kinsmen Club milk and the Queen's Canadian Fund kitchen utensils and household goods.

GIRL SWIMS 13 MILES—Swimming 13 miles in seven hours, Patricia Smith, 19, is recovering in hospital at Sturgeon Bay, Wis., sole survivor of a tragedy on Lake Michigan. Her father, a wealthy shipbuilder, and three guests on their 33-foot sloop drowned when the vessel capsized in a sudden squall.

Mary Lemif of Chicago was one of the guests who drowned when the Smith sloop capsized. Miss Smith said she loved Mary, who had a lifebelt, for several hours "until I just couldn't hang on any more. I lost my grip and she vanished in the waves." The lone survivor thinks the vessel was caught in the fringe of a tornado.

Conserve Timber

The Great Loss From Fires Has Been Stressed

The current slogans urging Canadian manufacturers to export should carry a warning that export is conditional upon conservation of natural resources, Garfield Weston, well-known industrialist said in a message to the Canadian Forestry Association.

"More than $300,000,000 of annual exports from Canada derive from the pulp and paper mills. This is greater than our sales of gold or wheat. The pulp and paper industry stands first in total wages paid and in capital invested."

"About 6,000 of our people find means to incinerate 400,000,000 cubic feet of the national wood supply every 12 months. Export stops on lands that fire passes over. And a gap of 50 to 100 years may ensue before the burned district comes to life again."

Outstandingly Good "SALADA" TEA

"Yes, yes, of course I'm glad to see you—who's your cute friend with the crisp, crunchy, delicious Grape-Nuts Flakes?"

"Ha! Ha! I fooled you Jim! That's our new cook. She won't serve anything but multi-rich, sweet-as-a-nut Nut's Grape-Nuts Flakes for breakfast."

"Well what are we waiting for? Let's get home quick and dig into that giant economy package."

"And don't forget that Grape-Nuts Flakes are made of two grains—wheat and malted barley. They give you carbohydrates for energy, proteins for muscle, phosphorus for teeth and bones, iron for the blood, and other food essentials. They taste wonderful. They're good for you. They're easy to digest."

SMILE AWHILE

"Now, mada, can you pick out the man who snatched your bag?"

"Oh, I think so, Inspector—do I have three guesses?"

Aspiring Vocalist: "Professor, do you think I will ever be able to do anything with my voice?"

Perpetrating Teacher: "Well, it might come in handy in case of a fire or shipwreck."

"Pa," said the subscriber's little daughter, "I know why editors call themselves 'we'."

"Why?"

"So the fellow who doesn't like what's printed will think that there are too many for him to lick."

Customer: "Can I exchange this unbreakable doll?"

Shop Assistant: "Is there something wrong with it?"

Customer: "No, only the baby's broken every breakable thing in the house with it."

"You told me you hadn't any mo-qui-toes," said the summer boarder, reproachfully.

"I haven't," said Farmer Home-spun. "Then you see flyin' around come from Si Perkins's place. They ain't mine."

Jimmy told his mother he was going to be a preacher when he grew up. Upon being asked why, he replied:

"I'll have to go to church anyway, and it's much easier to stand up and yell than to sit still and listen."

"I say," he complained, "it's not necessary to knock me down like that, is it?"

"Bless ye, no!" replied his teacher genially. "Up 'e jump an I'll show 'e thirteen other ways of doing it!"

Foreman (to small son of workman who has met with an accident): "When will your dad be ready to work again?"

Boy: "Can't say for certain, but it will be a long time."

Foreman: "What makes you think that?"

Boy: "Compensation's set in."

Waiter: "What's wrong with those eggs, sir? Weren't they cooked long enough?"

Customer: "Yes, but not soon enough."

Patient: "I can't say why, but I get a sort of a pain, I don't know where. And it leaves me in kind of a sort of—well, I don't know."

Doctor: "Here's a prescription for I don't know what. Take it I don't know how many times a day for I can't tell how long, and you'll be better I don't know when."

Far-Reaching Effect

Lack Of Baling Wire Means Less Feed For Livestock

The Wall Street Journal reports that manufacturers in the United States have been cutting down seriously on the production of baling wire. The price ceilings have made it unprofitable for the steel mills. Lack of baling wire means less feed for livestock, and that in turn means thinner meat animals for slaughter.

It all goes to show what a complex organism modern society has become. And it reveals the same old story, for want of a nail, the shoe was lost, for want of a shoe the horse was lost, and for want of a horse a rider was lost.

No farmer can bale his hay with shoe string!

Greeks Show Their Appreciation For Assistance From Canada

Lyncabettus street, prominent thoroughfare in Athens, was renamed Mackenzie King street in a ceremony July 1, 79th anniversary of the confederation of Canada.

The municipal council of Athens said the street was renamed "in recognition of the gratitude of the Greek people to the Canadian Prime Minister and the Canadian people for the moral and material assistance which has been repeatedly extended to this country."
